

Interpersonal Violence & Victim Response: Barriers, Bias, and Breakthroughs

provided by NOVA

This training explores interpersonal violence, including victim trauma responses, offender tactics, and the systemic barriers that affect help-seeking and accountability. Participants will gain insight into how myths and misinformation shape victim experiences and professional response. Designed for law enforcement, child protective services, attorneys, mental health professionals, advocates, and other helping professionals. Attend one session or stay for both. CEs available.

Tuesday, March 10, 2026

9:00 AM - 4:00 PM

Delaware Valley University, Life Science Building Auditorium

700 E Butler Ave
Doylestown, PA 18901

$35 per session or $60 for both sessions + lunch

Lunch will be provided to all-day attendees.

Session #1

(9am - 12pm)

Registration begins at 8:15 AM.

Failure and Success: How the Community Fails Victims and Helps Offenders Succeed

Session #2

(1pm - 4pm)

Registration begins at 12:15 PM.

"Counterintuitive Behavior?" Understanding Victim Response to Violence

SCAN THE QR CODE OR CLICK HERE TO VIEW FULL DESCRIPTIONS OF EACH TRAINING AND REGISTER.

PRESENTER:

Dr. Veronique N. Valliere, Psy.D

Valliere & Counseling Associates

Dr. Valliere is a licensed psychologist with over 30 years of experience specializing in interpersonal violence, including sexual assault, domestic violence, and offender behavior. She is a nationally recognized expert witness and consultant in criminal and civil cases and has served on the Pennsylvania Sexual Offender Assessment Board since 1997. Dr. Valliere has trained and consulted for all branches of the U.S. military, the Department of Justice, Department of Defense, FBI, and international law enforcement agencies.

